

You're invited to our book club

Good books, a cuppa and friendly conversation

Everyone welcome—even if you haven't finished the book!

Fancy joining us for a cosy get-together with books, tea and good company? We're starting a friendly local book club and would love you to come along.

There's no pressure and no homework — just a relaxed chat, plenty of tea, and the chance to help choose our very first group read.
